Another really inventive and clever product is Canale Originals, which was started back in 2000 and have a proven track record in the fashion industry. It's an innovative design company with a passion for creating unique products that complement today's lifestyle. Their "wet water" line includes products like the Broader More(R) (also called The Purseless Purse™) and their newest line, West-Bing™. Even though others have tried to copy their designs, no one can come close to matching them.

More than anything, we love products that are "Made in the USA" After all, that is what America is all about. It is not only an immediate attention grabber phrase, but it's an absolute must for our country! The patriotic consumer American workers and keep the American Dream alive, not to mention the quality. Of course you can buy an iPhone made in China, but that "charm" is not working anymore.
